

Asian Heritage Awards 2016

Dr. David Adler, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will be recognized at the Asian Heritage Awards Ceremony on April 23, 2016. Dr. Adler will receive the 2016 Asian Heritage Award in Education.

Dr. Adler was chose for exemplifying leadership and guidance to so many members of the Vietnamese pharmaceutical community. In addition, his clinical research into chronic and therapeutic drug therapy and other clinical applications and his work with the Veterans Administration have established an exemplary standard for all practitioners of internal medicine.

For more information about the ceremony go to <http://asianheritageawards.com/>